Hello Ken and Joe,

Even though I give a brief training session on safety and darkroom use, the official training is handled through the Center for Professional Development. To make the students' darkroom training official, they should go to the link below, log in, and take the on line training. There is a test at the end of it that they are required to take. Once they do that, it will be on record at CPD and they should receive a certificate. I have done it also!

Any questions let me know. Ken, I will see you today at 1:30pm

I wanted to let everyone know the latest version of the lab safety training has been posted through CPD/Element K. Here is a link to the training:

I would like to have a committee meeting the second or third week of December. Will folks be around for the meeting? The normal 10:30-11:30 timeframe for the meeting. Any day better than another?
